The State Convention.

The late state convention has presented a ticket for the support of the people. It is undoubtedly the duty of all loyal men to cast their suffrages for these nominations, but this does not preclude the right to comment upon the political wire-working which has been deemed necessary in its formation.

The contest which has just terminated has excited considerable feeling among the people, which is not destined soon to be forgotten. At first it was thought there would be little opposition to the re-nomination of Gov. Salomon, as his administration had been unexceptionable. There could really be no fault found with him as a governor, nor in his private relations as a man. He has proved himself able, efficient, firm and courteous; he was temperate and moral in his habits of life, and extremely attentive and pains-taking in the discharge of his public duties. We think he is a model governor for these times; so, we have every reason to believe, thought a very large majority of the loyal people of the state. They expected his re-nomination, and are much disappointed that their wishes have been thwarted. But, notwithstanding this, their patriotism is of that kind which will not permit them to hazard the Union cause, (now more in danger than it ever was before), by any useless opposition or vain regrets at what cannot now be remedied.

In the nomination of Mr. Lewis the popular will has undoubtedly been ignored. This has been brought about, we are confident, through no agency of that gentleman, for his history has not been that of a demagogue or self-seeker. It was accomplished by a clique of political schemers at Madison, seconded by their satellites throughout the state, because they could not use Gov. Salomon for their own purposes and who hope to be able hereafter to mould Mr. Lewis to their wishes. In this, we think, they will be mistaken. The wrong they have committed is their own, and the unworthy motives which actuated them are monopolized by themselves. None of it whatever do we attribute to Mr. Lewis.

The design to defeat the nomination of Gov. Salomon has been a long time in contemplation. It originated among the members of the legislature, last winter, where most of the evil to the political interests of the state usually has its paternity. It was instigated by the "Madison regency," who found themselves of no more consequence in the executive chamber, than those who visited it on business from other parts of the state. They could not dictate appointments nor policies, and therefore they resolved to destroy the man whose independence was proof against their wiles, their dictation and their menaces. While he sat in the executive chair there could be little hope of legislative atolls, unless appointments of political clergies, or corporate combinations, railroad or otherwise, through legislative sanctions. Gov. Salomon was not only too honest for them, but also too sagacious. They must have a change, or their vocation was gone.

That the design to defeat Gov. Salomon's nomination came from the legislature is evident from the fact that the secret springs were touched soon after its adjournment, which set the wires at work throughout the state preparing the way for the plan concocted by the "Madison regency." It began to be whispered about that it would not do to nominate Gov. Salomon. He had, it was said, offended people in his appointments; he was unpopular with the soldiers; he had lost the confidence of his German friends; he was too exclusive and aristocratic; he was a foreigner; a Jew; and finally the religious prejudices of the people were appealed to by declaring him an atheist, and by slanders upon his private character and that of his family. We have never known a more unscrupulous, false and wicked conspiracy entered into to defeat and ruin an honest and noble-hearted man, and we sincerely believe that if it were not for the perilous condition of the country the people would arise, en masse, and elect him in spite of the plottings of his enemies. In all this let it be borne in mind that no body accuses Mr. Lewis of any complicity in this conspiracy, and in the circulation of these slanders. It was done by those who hope to use and control Mr. Lewis after his election, in which we believe they will be entirely disappointed.

These early efforts to forestall the public mind against Gov. Salomon were begun in Rock county as soon as elsewhere, as the work was considered difficult and hazardous among the honest and intelligent people of this county. They are not easily deceived, as the result has proved; but the attempt was made. An agent of the "Madison regency" was found in one of our own towns, soon after the adjournment of the legislature, telling them that the "programme" was to nominate Lewis for governor instead of Salomon, and a certain other individual for secretary of state, and so on naming the most important offices on the ticket; "but," said the sagacious agent, "we must keep dark about this for the present, and not let the Gazette folks know it, as they will oppose it."

The "programme" really was to defeat Gov. Salomon's nomination by offering all the other offices on the ticket as rewards for the efforts of those ambitious to be placed upon the state ticket. There were a dozen or more candidates for secretary of state, all of whom had "encouragements" from some one of the "Madison regency." These candidates had a double reason for opposing Salomon and favoring Lewis. If the latter could be nominated they made the secretary's office vacant, and each one hoped to fill it; and by working with might and main to pull down the former, by fair means or foul, they imagined that they would have the approval of their masters at Madison.

Thus went on the canvas for the nominations. The people on one side with no leaders or wire workers to influence them, had determined to nominate and re-elect Gov. Salomon, while the "regency" with the spoilsman, the seekers for place and power, had a different "programme." We shall see from what followed at the convention how numbers with honesty and scrupulous fairness as their guides, but no apt for intrigue, were out-generated by a scheming and unscrupulous minority.

In what we thus say, let it be remembered that we entirely acquit Mr. Lewis of any design to do the least wrong. From his high character as an honorable and high-minded gentleman it is not probable that he is acquainted with what his professed friends have done.

We shall resume this subject to-morrow.

Republican Union State Convention.

Special dispatch to the Janesville Daily Gazette.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 20.

The convention was opened at 8:30 a. m. by prayer.

The following persons were elected as a state central committee:

Robert Flint, C. D. Robinson, M. At. II. Carpenter, A. G. Knight, W. C. Allen, Horace Rublee, W. A. Lawrence, J. Allen Barber, G. W. Hazelton, C. C. Sholes, H. D. Barron and A. W. Gordon. Horace Rublee to be chairman.

Mr. Hazelton moved a resolution of thanks to our senators and representatives in congress. After short speeches by J. B. Smith, E. L. Butterick and B. F. Hopkins, it was moved that the nomination of Col. Fairchild, of the second Wisconsin regiment, as secretary of state, be by acclamation, which was done amid thunders of applause.

Mr. Hastings for state treasurer, and Pickard state superintendent were also nominated by acclamation.

Mr. Hastings made a short and appropriate speech.

Winfield Smith was nominated attorney general on the first formal ballot. At this time Col. Fairchild made his appearance on the stand and accepted the nomination, while the convention rose to their feet and cheered the gallant soldier in the most enthusiastic manner. His speech was such as only a soldier can make.

An informal ballot for bank controller nominated Wm. H. Ramsey. He was declared the unanimous nominee.

Henry Cordier was nominated state prison commissioner on the first informal ballot.

Those gentlemen returned thanks to the convention in brief and appropriate remarks. At 12 o'clock convention adjourned sine die.

THE BIG GUN AT CHARLESTON.—What it can do.—The breaching power of the 10 inch 300 pound Parrott rifle gun, now about to be used against the brick walls of Fort Sumter, will be best understood by comparing it with the ordinary 24-pounder siege gun, which was the largest gun employed for breaching fortifications during the Italian war.

A 24-pounder round shot, which starts with a velocity of 1,635 feet per second, strikes an object at a distance of 3,500 yards with a velocity of about 300 feet per second.

The 10-inch rifle 300 pound shot has an initial velocity of 1,111 feet, and has afterward a remaining velocity of 700 feet per second at a distance of 3,500 yards.

From well-known mechanical laws, the resistance which these projectiles are capable of overcoming is equal to 33,750 pounds and 114,150 pounds, raised respectively in a second and respectively. Making allowance for the difference of the diameters of these projectiles, it will be found that their penetrating power will be as 1 to 19.6. The penetration of the 24 pounder shot at 3,500 yards, in brick work, is 42 inches. The penetration of the 10 inch projectile will therefore be between six and seven feet to the same material. To use a more familiar illustration—the power of the 10-inch rifle shot at the distance of 3,500 yards, may be said to be equal to that of the united blows of 200 sledge hammers weighing 100 pounds each, falling from a height of ten feet, and acting upon a drill ten inches in diameter.

Gen. Burdette has issued an order for the impressment of 6,000 slaves, to work on the railroad from Lexington to Danville, the completion of which is justly regarded as a military necessity. The slaves are to be taken from counties in the neighborhood of the proposed work, and citizens of the state will be employed to superintend their labor. The owners are to be paid for the labor of the slaves, who will be returned when the necessity for their impressment ceases.—Waynesville Eagle.

PENBERTON'S ARMY GONE TO PEACES.

Col. Burke, of General Rosecrans' army, reached Cincinnati on Thursday last, and says, among other items of interest, that Penberton's Vicksburg army has gone to pieces. The Texans left in a body for home, and the Tennessees and Alabamians were leaving it in numberless squads. Over ten thousand Tennessees have reported to the provost marshal of the Army of the Cumberland, as deserters, from the rebel army, having all come into our lines since Gen. Rosecrans' advance on Tallahoma.

Rosecrans' army is in splendid condition and anxious for a fight, but the rebel pickets tantalize our men and laugh at them, asserting that we can never catch them so long as Bragg, who can outrun Rosecrans, is in command.

Lieut. Col. Biggs, with the 123d Illinois, mounted infantry, made an incursion into Alabama week before last, and was successful in dispersing a band of rebels near the junction of Larkin's Fork and Point Rock river. A number of prisoners were taken, and refugees came from their hiding places and joined Col. Biggs' command along his route. They say that the rebel conscription forces every male citizen at all able to bear arms into the service, when they are hurried off to Rome, Ga., where they are making great efforts to collect an army to resist the expected advance of Gen. Rosecrans.

WASHINGTON, August 20.

Prominent officers serving before Charleston express themselves in private letters received here to day, as earnestly hopeful of the results of the combined naval and military operations, but they do not mention any time for the reduction of Fort Sumter, etc., as promised by enthusiastic correspondents. The work being heavy, and requiring the utmost skill and caution, they, with a full appreciation of all the difficulties, refrain from exciting expectations of immediate and complete victory; nor is such a speedy result of such a character anticipated by gentlemen in Washington who are best acquainted with the plans of the commanding officers.

FORTRESS MONROE, August 19.

The steamer John River arrived early this morning from off Charleston. She brings no additional news.

Last Night's Report.

MEMPHIS, August 18.
Special to Chicago Journal.—There is only one corps now at Vicksburg—that of General McPherson, the 17th. The health of the troops is becoming seriously impaired. A species of intermittent fever is prevalent, and the list of mortality is increasing. This is attributed to the hot weather, the malarial, and the exposure of the campaign. Cases requiring it are promptly removed on the hospital boats to the large, commodious and well managed hospitals here.

Very few of the troops at Vicksburg are quartered in the city—only enough to do police duty. The rest are encamped on the heights back of the city.

Sherman's army corps (the 15th) is encamped near the Big Bluffs, on Bear and Clear creeks. This corps has had the hardest service of the campaign, and yet enjoys better health than any other.

The 13th army corps (Ord's) was moved down to Natchez for sanitary reasons, and will remain there for the present. That is the healthiest city on the river.

Porter's fleet is scattered along on the Mississippi from New Orleans to Cairo, and the intermediate distances between the points where gunboats are stationed are patrolled by light draught boats. The navigation of the river continues to be uninterrupted by guerrillas.

There is no special news from below, but advices from General Steele's Arkansas expedition from Helena are looked for soon. Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 20.

The war democratic mass meeting here to day was an immense affair. Full 20,000 people were present. The liveliest enthusiasm prevailed.

At half-past ten the meeting was called to order, and Gen. Nathan King, just from the fields of Vicksburg, was called upon to preside, with a vice president from each congressional district.

Gen. Kimball, on taking the chair, made an excellent speech, which wrought up the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm.

A series of resolutions were then introduced and were unanimously passed. They are up to the full war point. Speeches were made by Hon. Henry Sevier, General John A. McClelland, of Illinois, Gen. Dumont, representative in Congress from this district, Rev. Dr. Daily, Col. Ashby, Steele and others, all of which were enthusiastically applauded.

Letters were read from Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, of New York, Hon. Jno. Brogum, of Ohio, Hon. Lewis Cass, of Michigan, Gen. Alvin P. Hovey, Gen. John A. Logan, and others, all in sympathy with the objects of the meeting.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

Information from the headquarters of the army of the Potomac says there is no change or indications of a change. The rebel forces around Culpepper have been reduced to A. P. Hill's command, while Longstreet and Ewell have moved southward, probably to Fredericksburg.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.

Herald's dispatches.—A lady reached here to day from Richmond, who states that the utmost destitution exists among the middle and lower classes of the people. She had a pass from the rebels on account of her being the wife of an Englishman, who has been protected from draft by the British consuls.

The Times dispatch says: Private information received to day agrees with our own already telegraphed, that Lee's army is daily increasing in strength. Numerous conscripts are daily joining him, but at no period of the war has there been so great a desire manifested to desert from it.

All deserters who come this way tell the same tale. They number four or five times as many as ever before, and by the far greater portion of them are natives. They unite in declaring that nine-tenths of those who are now deserting Lee, make for their respective homes instead of coming this way. They also say that the feeling that the rebel cause is lost is universal in the rebel army of the Potomac.

General James Wadsworth of New York will probably be detached from his division in the army of the Potomac and assigned to duty in a field where his command will be an immense and speedy addition of black troops to the national army.

The World's dispatch says, the navy department has advices from Charleston confirming of those already published. Dispatches received are withheld from prudential motives. General Gilmore complains of pernicious effects produced by publication of army correspondence from within his lines and requested that no more be allowed to come there.

The special says seventeen men were arrested last night endeavoring to escape across the eastern branch of the Potomac; sixteen were found to be absconding substitutes; the other was a German who stated he had appeared in vain for a commission in the Union army, and had concluded to try his luck on the other side of the lines.

Col. James C. Rice, 44th New York volunteers, has been appointed a brigadier general.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.

The Gazette has private advices from the army of the Cumberland up to the 17th. There is a movement in progress, and the public may soon look for important news from East Tennessee.

To the Public.

Any persons who may notice omissions or errors in the enrollment lists now in course of publication will do an act of justice to all concerned by giving notice of such cases to the enrolling officers of the town or ward to which they refer, or at the Provost Marshal's Office.

A Box for Capt. Miles' Company.

Burdick & Newell will pack a box for Capt. Miles' company, and send it about next Wednesday. Late reports from that company represent a good deal of sickness prevailing in it, principally diarrhea, and such articles as will be beneficial in that disease are especially desirable. The leaves of the raspberry and blackberry are said to be very useful, steeped and made into a drink. Dried leaves lose none of their virtues. A large quantity of these leaves would be a valuable contribution.

Squashes.—Mr. C. L. De Forrest has left with us some fine samples of the Boston marrowfat squash, an article that beats the pumpkin out of sight for a palatable pie.

Masonry.—A special meeting of Western Star Lodge No. 14 will be held in the Lodge Room Saturday evening, August 22d, at half-past seven o'clock. A full attendance is particularly desired.

House Exhibition at the Fair Grounds.
—We are requested to state that there will be a series of races at the fair ground tomorrow afternoon under the superintendence of H. M. Wheeler, the proceeds of which he promises to donate to the Ladies' Aid Society. The first race will be contested by the Furlong colt and the Ft. Atkinson stallion. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. For other particulars see hand bills.

Gold Chain Lost.—Lost, last evening between the residence of W. S. Bennett in Jackson street and Gault & Rice's store, a heavy gold Shetland chain. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at the store of E. S. Barrows. aug21d3d.

A "Parsee."—The so-called "Democratic General Committee" of Kings county, N. Y., (Brooklyn) must be a nice set of young men. At a special meeting of the other night, they unanimously

Resolved, That, as the administration has chosen to conduct the war in the radical style, for the abolition of slavery, we, the democracy of Kings county, do pause to render any more assistance to the government to show the who like the equality of whites and negroes to go to the field and to do the fighting.

Jeff Davis will rub his hands and jump for joy, when he reads that. The fellows should have ordered a certified copy of the resolution to be transmitted to the Great Rebel, for whom they doubtless have much sympathy.
